

PLUS, when you live on campus you:

Increase Productivity

It's easy to make office hours, participate in law clinics and gather for study groups. You're already at home when you live in 330 Cooper Street.

Get better grades

Research shows students who live on campus get better grades. Rutgers-Camden offers competitive graduate programs where academic excellence is fostered.

Build A Network

Build a lifelong network of friends in the community you share living on campus.

Experience Philadelphia and South Jersey

At Rutgers-Camden, you have the ease and security of a close-knit college community optimized by the excitement, history, culture and glamour of the City of Philadelphia nearby. Enjoy the nightlife, clubs and restaurants of the fifth-largest city in the U.S. just minutes away or the trendy towns of South Jersey. Just hop on the "PATCO Speed Line" or take NJ Transit trains to New York City or the New Jersey Shore.

All the comforts of home

330 Cooper Street has everything you need and the amenities you want. The 12-story building is also conveniently located in the heart of the University District near the Camden Waterfront. Choose from a mix of 1, 3 and 4 bedroom apartments fully furnished with the latest eco designs.

Hassle-free living

One price covers rent, utilities (Direct TV with premium channels, internet, individual climate control, and water), WiFi and even the cost of laundry!

A touch of luxury

Apartments are fully furnished and include modern kitchens with wood cabinets and stainless steel appliances, including dishwashers. Many apartments have stunning views of Camden and Philadelphia.

Designed especially for you

Designed with the graduate student in mind, the building includes several study group spaces, a business center and a rooftop deck with panoramic views of Camden and Philadelphia. Use the deck to meet with friends, study for the latest exam or to simply take in the view.

The campus advantage

Living on a close-knit college campus has many advantages. Across the street is the Campus Center—a hub of social activity. Your morning warm-up can include a short walk to our state-of-the-art recreational facility. Enjoy a peaceful walk to class or to the Rutgers-Camden Center for the Arts to experience fine art exhibitions or music and theatrical performances.

Security

The Residence halls are secured 24/7 by the Rutgers Police Department, a fully commissioned and professionally trained police force.

Support

Our Residence Life staff are available to help 330 Cooper Street residents connect to campus and community resources in order to enhance their personal, academic, spiritual, professional and social goals and experiences.

Handy Shopping

Convenient to the apartments, the building's ground floor will offer retail.
