

Public and Community Events Sponsored by the Faculty of Arts & Sciences

Date	Event
8/13/2003	Nursing Open House
9/13/2003	Camden Campaign for Children's Literacy -- 2nd Community Celebration
9/15/2003	Psychology Lecture -- "Emotion and Culture" by Prof. Agneta Fischer of the University of Amsterdam.
9/15/2003	Liberal Studies Program Lecture Series -- Assistant Professor of Religion, Dr. John Wall spoke about "Sin, Sinning, and the Symbolism of Evil."
9/17/2003	Computer Science Seminar -- Patricia Johann, of the Computer Science Department at Rutgers-Camden, discussed "Free Theorems for a Lazy Functional Language with a Strict Evaluation Primitive."
9/17/2003	Nursing Open House
9/17/2003	Remembering Childhood: Meet The Authors, Hear Their Stories -- Faith Ringgold, author of "Tar Beach," discussed her work as part of a series sponsored by the Center for Children and Childhood Studies.
9/22/2003	Arts and Sciences Golf Outing
10/1/2003	Computer Science Seminar -- Dr. Jean-Camille Birget, chair of the Computer Science Department at Rutgers-Camden, led seminar on "The complexity of the word problem for groups."
10/2/2003	Open House for Criminal Justice Graduate Program
10/8/2003	Concerts at Noon -- William Carr, pianist and Chairman of the Music Department at Immaculata College performed a program of the great classics of Mozart and Beethoven.
10/8/2003	Liberal Studies Program Lecture Series -- Provost Roger Dennis discussed "Greed: All You Ever Wanted to Know about Corporate Monopolies in an Hour and a Half."
10/15/2003	Computer Science Seminar -- Dr. Gabor Toth, of the Mathematical Sciences Science Department at Rutgers-Camden, discussed "How Lopsided Can a Convex Polygon Be?".
10/15/2003	Concerts at Noon -- The Serafin String Quartet offered a program of music by Beethoven, Mendelssohn and Borodin.
10/15/2003	Remembering Childhood: Meet The Authors, Hear Their Stories -- Tanya Marie Barrientos, author of "Frontera Street," discussed her work as part of a series sponsored by the Center for Children and Childhood Studies.

Date	Event
10/16/2003	Associate Seminar Series -- Center for Children and Childhood Studies: Dr. Myra Bluebond-Langner, Director of the Center for Children and Childhood Studies and Distinguished Professor of Anthropology, discussed "Choiceless choices: Decision-making for children with cancer when cure is not likely."
10/16/2003	Open House for Criminal Justice Graduate Program
10/20/2003	Undegraduate Liberal Studies Open House
10/22/2003	Concerts at Noon -- Unseamed Shakespeare: Readings from the Sonnets and Plays of Shakespeare, interspersed with Dances and Songs featuring Julianne Baird, soprano and Richard Stone, archlute.
10/23/2003	Regional Seminar Series -- Center for Children and Childhood Studies: Maria Kefalas, of St. Joseph's University, discussed "What Good Mothers Do: Childrearing Strategies and Philosophies of Low-Income
10/29/2003	Computer Science Seminar -- Claus Juergensen, of the Technische Universitaet Dresden, discussed "Monadic Fusion of Functional Programs."
10/29/2003	Concerts at Noon -- Rieko Aizawa, pianist, continued her exploration of the piano sonatas of Beethoven, this time the Sonatas No. 5 (Op. 10) and No. 18 (Op. 31). In addition, Ms. Aizawa premiered "Night Spell," a
10/29/2003	Liberal Studies Program Lecture Series -- Paul Rozin, of the University of Pennsylvania, discussed "Gluttony: When and Where Is Eating a Sin."
11/5/2003	Concerts at Noon -- The Mark Kramer Trio
11/6/2003	Associate Seminar Series -- Center for Children and Childhood Studies: Dr. Thomas Donnelly, of the Psychology Department, discussed "Factors in adolescence that promote civic participation in young
11/6/2003	Open House for Criminal Justice Graduate Program
11/11/2003	International Studies Fair
11/12/2003	Madrigal Festival
11/12/2003	Computer Science Seminar -- Dr. Siqi Fu, of the Computer Science Department, discussed "Hearing the shape of a drum with several complex ears."
11/12/2003	Concerts at Noon -- Too Hot to Handel!: Julianne Baird and the Philomel Baroque Ensemble presented a program of the music of Handel featuring the debut of the "Arco Argento Chamber Players."
11/13/2003	Regional Seminar Series -- Center for Children and Childhood Studies: Kimberly Scott, of Hofstra University, discussed "African American and Latina Girls' Collectivism in a State-Operated School
11/13/2003	Lecture about Camden History -- Camden's 175th Anniversary Committee presented part two in a series of lectures celebrating the City of Camden's 175th Anniversary with an oral presentation highlighting the founding of Camden and an exhibit entitled "A Sense of Place" which features artifacts depicting historic Johnson Park and its place in the city's history. The featured speaker was Dr. Jeffrey Dorwart, professor of

Date	Event
11/19/2003	Concerts at Noon -- The Serafin String Quartet: The Quartet returned with the world premier of a quartet by composer David Laganella.
11/19/2003	Philosophy Society presentation -- Dr. Daniel Hart of the Psychology Department discussed "Justice and Care in Moral Psychology: The Kohlberg - Gilligan Debate 30 Years Later."
11/19/2003	Liberal Studies Program Lecture Series -- Professor of English, Dr. William Lutz spoke about "Lust: Where Would We Be Without It?"
11/20/2003	CEO Luncheon with J. C. Henry, Chief Executive Officer of the E. P. Henry Company.
11/20/2003	Open House for Criminal Justice Graduate Program
11/20/2003	"Noises Off"
11/21/2003	"Noises Off"
11/22/2003	"Noises Off"
11/23/2003	"Noises Off"
12/3/2003	Computer Science Seminar -- Dr. Dawei Hong, of the Computer Science Department, discussed "Evolutionary features and Donsker classes."
12/4/2003	Nursing Opportunities Day
12/4/2003	Open House for Criminal Justice Graduate Program
12/10/2003	Nursing Open House
12/18/2003	Open House for Criminal Justice Graduate Program
1/15/2004	Open House for Criminal Justice Graduate Program
1/22/2004	Regional Seminar Series -- Center for Children and Childhood Studies: Chris Boyatzis, of Bucknell University, discussed "The Construction of Spiritual Meaning in Parent-Child Communication."
1/28/2004	Liberal Studies Program Lecture Series -- Gayle Porter, a member of the Rutgers-Camden Business School Faculty, spoke about "Sloth: The Sin We Love to Hate."
1/29/2004	Lecture about Camden History -- Camden's industrial era was spotlighted during a lecture that highlighted the era of industrialization in Camden and the role that this period played in the development of the African American and Hispanic communities in the city and surrounding region. Panelists included Paul Schopp, former director of the Camden Historical Society; Juan Gonzalez, a lifetime Camden resident and civil rights litigator; Mangaliso Davis, chair of the African American Historical Commission, City of Camden; and Howard Gillette, professor of history at Rutgers-Camden and the author of a forthcoming book chronicling Camden's history.

Date	Event
2/8/2004	Opening Reception for LiQin Tan's Exhibit entitled "Digital Finite & Primitive Infinity". LiQin Tan is and Assistant Professor of Computer Animation and Multimedia in the Fine Arts Department.
2/9/2004	Liberal Studies Program Lecture Series -- Cultural critic and theorist Laura Kipnis, the acclaimed author of "Against
2/11/2004	Love: A Polemic " discussed "What's Love Got to Do with It?: A Valentine's Day Antidote " She is a Robeson Stamp Commemoration
2/12/2004	Associate Seminar Series -- Center for Children and Childhood Studies: Dr. Holly Blackford, Assistant Professor of English, discussed "Multicultural responses to canonical voices: Reading Huck Finn and Scout
2/18/2004	Rutgers-Camden Center for State Constitutional Studies Lecture -- The Hon. Jeffrey Amestoy, chief justice of the Supreme Court of Vermont, delivered the annual State Constitutional Law Lecture titled "Pragmatic Constitutionalism: Reflections on State Constitutional Theory and Same-Sex Marriage Claims
2/19/2004	Computer Science Seminar -- Dr. Guy Kortsarz, of the Computer Science Department, discussed "Approximation in Embedding (Part I)."
2/21/2004	Physical Therapy Open House
2/25/2004	Concerts at Noon -- William Carr, pianist
2/26/2004	Associate Seminar Series -- Center for Children and Childhood Studies: Ellen Handler Spitz, of the University of Maryland, discussed "Picture Books and the Inner Lives of Children."
3/1/2004	Women's History Month -- Dr. Charlotte Markey, Assistant Professor of Psychology discussed the movie presentation of "Real Women Have Curves".
3/3/2004	Concerts at Noon -- Martin Dillon, tenor, performed the world premier of songs by the Composer Robert Kahn
3/3/2004	History Department and Women's Studies Discussion -- commentators Jeanne Houck, from History Works; Kathy Peiss, Professor of History at the University of Pennsylvania; and Jill Horner, Rutgers-Camden graduate student in History and Miss New Jersey 2000, viewed and discussed the film "Placing the Miss
3/4/2004	Computer Science Seminar -- Dr. Jean-Camille Birget, of the Computer Science Department, discussed "Finitely Presented Groups with coNP-complete Word Problem."
3/4/2004	Panel Discussion of "The Passion..." -- The Philosophy and Religion Department sponsored a panel discussion of Mel Gibson's film, "The Passion of the Christ."
3/4/2004	Open House for Criminal Justice Graduate Program
3/5/2004	Conference on Moderate Islam "Has Islam Been Hijacked" -- Walid Phares, a professor of Middle East studies at Florida Atlantic University and Jamal Hasan, a native of Bangladesh who now works for the U.S. Census Bureau discussed the eclipse of moderate Islamic voices by extremist radicals

Date	Event
3/6/2004	Scholar's Day -- Honors College
3/8/2004	Women's History Month -- Dr. Gary Foster of the University of Pennsylvania discussed "'Low Carbohydrate Diets and Obesity Treatment: What's the Evidence?'"
3/9/2004	Associate Seminar Series -- Center for Children and Childhood Studies: Dr. Cati Coe, Assistant Professor of Sociology, discussed "Youth, learning, and the state in Ghana."
3/10/2004	Concerts at Noon -- The Serafin String Quartet . Luigi Mazzocchi and Kate Ransom, violins; Anthony Simmons, viola and Carolyn Ellman, performed Beethoven's string quartet Opus 132.
3/10/2004	"What is Childhood" Lecture and Discussion -- Dr. John Wall of the Religion Department
3/11/2004	Women's History Month -- A panel of Rutgers-Camden faculty discussed "A Woman's Work Is ...: Women and Gender Roles in the Workplace and the Home." The panel included Gayle Porter, Associate Professor of Business; Dr. Kate Bezrukova, Assistant Professor of Psychology; and Dr. Patricia Johann, Assistant Professor of Computer Science, and was moderated by Chet Snell, Assistant Professor of Business.
3/18/2004	Open House for Criminal Justice Graduate Program
3/23/2004	Women's History Month -- Dr. Holly Blackford, Assistant Professor of English, discussed "The Wandering Womb at Home in 'The Red Tent': A Discussion of the Novel along with a Presentation of Tenn Readers
3/23/2004	Master Of Physical Therapy Open House
3/24/2004	Concerts at Noon -- Julianne Baird and students performed a condensed version of George Frederic Handel's Julius Caesar.
3/24/2004	Women's History Month -- Dr. Margaret Marsh, Dean of the Faculty of Arts & Sciences and the Graduate School, discussed the early work of Margaret Sanger in a lecture entitled "Reproductive Rights, Reproductive Freedom:" The Early Career of Margaret Sanger.
3/24/2004	Philosophy Society Lecture -- Dr. Robert Wood of the Sociology Department gave a talk entitled "Globalization at Sea: Cruise Ships and the Neoliberal Vision."
3/25/2004	Computer Science Seminar -- Dr. Michael Palis, of the Computer Science Department, discussed "Some New Results on Competitive Real-Time Scheduling."
3/25/2004	Regional Seminar Series -- Center for Children and Childhood Studies: Loretta Bass, of the University of Oklahoma, discussed "Making Sense of Children's Labor and Childhood in Sub-Saharan Africa."
3/29/2004	Liberal Studies Program Lecture Series -- Dr. Marie Cornelia, Associate Professor of English and Associate Dean for Graduate Studies, discussed "Envy."
3/30/2004	Women's History Month -- Benjamin Li, of the Psychology Department at Haverford College, discussed "Lecture: "Antecedents and Consequences of Relationship Commitment: Perspectives from the Investment
3/31/2004	Concerts at Noon -- Adeline Tomasone, flutist.

Date	Event
3/31/2004	"Bend It Like Beckham": Movie Presentation and Discussion -- Dr. Nancy Rosoff, Associate Dean for Administration, Faculty of Arts and Sciences.
4/1/2004	Open House for Criminal Justice Graduate Program
4/1/2004	"Something's Afoot" -- The Rutgers Camden Department of Fine Arts performed their spring musical, "Something's Afoot," playing at the Walter Gordon Theater. 8:00 PM
4/2/2004	Lunchtime Workshop on WebCT
4/2/2004	"Something's Afoot" -- The Rutgers Camden Department of Fine Arts performed their spring musical, "Something's Afoot," playing at the Walter Gordon Theater. 8:00 PM
4/3/2004	"Something's Afoot" -- The Rutgers Camden Department of Fine Arts performed their spring musical, "Something's Afoot," playing at the Walter Gordon Theater. 1:00 PM
4/3/2004	"Something's Afoot" -- The Rutgers Camden Department of Fine Arts performed their spring musical, "Something's Afoot," playing at the Walter Gordon Theater. 8:00 PM
4/4/204	"Something's Afoot" -- The Rutgers Camden Department of Fine Arts performed their spring musical, "Something's Afoot," playing at the Walter Gordon Theater. 2:30 PM
4/7/2204	Concerts at Noon -- Rieko Aizawa pianist performed Beethoven Piono Sonatas
4/7/2004	Camden Online Poetry Project Reading and Info Session
4/8/2004	Regional Seminar Series -- Center for Children and Childhood Studues: Dr. John Wall, Assistant Professor of Religion. discussed "Ethical perspectives on how children come into the world."
4/8/2004	Computer Science Seminar -- Dr. Guy Kortsarz, of the Computer Science Department, discussed "Embedding in Approximation (Part II)."
4/14/2004	Liberal Studies Program Lecture -- Dr. Geoffrey Sill, chair of the English Department, discussed "Anger:
4/15/2004	Open House for Criminal Justice Graduate Program
4/15/2004	Robert Bailey Memorial Lecture -- New Jersey Department of Education Commissioner William Librera discussed "Educational Policv and Reform in New Jersev: Transforming Public Education".
4/19/2004	The Comp Posters -- English Composition II students created a visual representation of their research projects to be displayed during this event. Students were available to discuss their research.
4/20/2004	The Comp Posters -- English Composition II students created a visual representation of their research projects to be displayed during this event. Students were available to discuss their research.
4/21/2004	Children's Center Celebration -- The Center for Children and Childhood Studies celebrated its fourth birthday, as well as the contributions of outgoing associate director Dr. Bill Whitlow (professor, CCAS-

Date	Event
4/22/2004	Department of Psychology Lecture--"Early Antecedents of Antisocial Behavior and Drug Use" -- Dr. Nicholas Ialongo, of the School of Public Health at the Johns Hopkins University, discussed "Adolescent Outcomes of Two 1st Grade Universal Preventive Interventions Aimed at the Early Antecedents of
4/22/2004	Regional Seminar Series -- Center for Children and Childhood Studies: Ellen Fennick, of Widener University, discussed " After-School Programs and Children and Youth with Disabilities."
4/23/2004	Computer Science Seminar -- Junping Wang, of the Colorado School of the Mines and NSF.
4/26/2004	Liberal Studies Program Lecture Series -- Robert Schindler, a member of the Rutgers-Camden Business School Faculty, will speak about "Pride."
4/28/2004	Workshop about Hispanic Student Needs -- EOF and Hispanic/Student Affairs sponsored a workshop for Hispanic students. The workshop covered information pertaining to graduate school, financial aid, loans,
4/29/2004	Open House for Criminal Justice Graduate Program
4/30/2004	Psychology/Sociology Undergraduate Research Poster Session
5/6/2004	Associate Seminar Series -- Center for Children and Childhood Studies: Tetsuji Yamada, Professor of Economics, discussed "Healthcare Services Accessibility of Children in the USA."
5/13/2004	Class Day
5/13/2004	Open House for Criminal Justice Graduate Program
5/15/2004	Studio Art Students' Thesis Exhibition
5/15/2004	Electronic Arts Students' Thesis Exhibition Opens
5/15/2004	Senior Musical Theater Showcase -- Adam Halpin, a graduating senior in the musical theatre program, performed his senior showcase, consisting of songs from a variety of musicals ranging from Sondheim to new wave composers such as Jason Robert Brown, William Finn, and Adam Guettel.
5/18/2004	Honors Convocation
5/22/2004	Studio Art Students' Thesis Exhibition
5/27/2004	Open House for Criminal Justice Graduate Program
6/10/2004	Open House for Criminal Justice Graduate Program
6/24/2004	Open House for Criminal Justice Graduate Program