Rutgers University–Camden strives to provide strong student service support to all students, including those enrolled at our off-campus sites. Most Rutgers–Camden offices offer comprehensive support to off-campus students by phone and email, but below are a few key support services that offer additional digital support, such as Skype/videoconferencing sessions and other online assistance:

Academic Program Manager On-Site
Each location has a full-time academic program manager who serves as an on-the-ground adviser for students at their site and discusses registration with the students each term.

Disability Services
The Office of Disability Services provides students with confidential advising and accommodation services in order to allow students with documented physical, mental, and learning disabilities to successfully complete their course of study at Rutgers–Camden. The coordinator visits most off-campus sites each term, and provides support for off-campus students as needed.

Dean of Students
The Office of the Dean of Students provides supportive services, advocacy, veterans support services, and education in an effort to ensure students are successful both personally and academically. Off-campus students receive support through phone, email, videoconferencing, and, if necessary, site visits.
