The annual Summer Writers’ Conference offers an intensive series of workshops, lectures, and meetings to Rutgers students and the community. Throughout the conference, nationally known and award-winning writers, poets, and editors host hour-long readings of their works during the afternoon. The reading series is open to the public and free. Refreshments will be served.

Readings begin at 1 p.m. Location: Stedman Gallery, Fine Arts Building.

TUESDAY, JUNE 21
Jane Bernstein and Dolores Hayden

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 22
Robin Hemley and Ken Kalfus

THURSDAY, JUNE 23
Rebecca Chace and Tom Sleigh

FRIDAY, JUNE 24
Greg Pardlo and Benjamin Hale

MONDAY, JUNE 27
J.T. Barbarese and Danielle Evans

TUESDAY, JUNE 28
Lise Funderburg and Peter Trachtenberg

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 29
Rutgers–Camden M.F.A. students

For conference information and biographies of authors, see summer.camden.rutgers.edu/writconf.html.
25th Annual Rutgers–Camden Summer Writers’ Conference

The annual Summer Writers’ Conference offers an intensive series of workshops, lectures, and meetings to Rutgers students and the community.

Throughout the conference, nationally known and award-winning writers, poets, and editors host hour-long readings of their works during the afternoon.

The reading series is open to the public and free. Refreshments will be served.

Readings begin at 1 p.m. Location: Stedman Gallery, Fine Arts Building.

TUESDAY, JUNE 21
Jane Bernstein and Dolores Hayden

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 22
Robin Hemley and Ken Kalfus

THURSDAY, JUNE 23
Rebecca Chace and Tom Sleigh

FRIDAY, JUNE 24
Greg Pardlo and Benjamin Hale

MONDAY, JUNE 27
J.T. Barbarese and Danielle Evans

TUESDAY, JUNE 28
Lise Funderburg and Peter Trachtenberg

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 29
Rutgers–Camden M.F.A. students

For conference information and biographies of authors, see summer.camden.rutgers.edu/writconf.html.
Family Fun and Gallery Exhibits

Art Soup 2011 Stage Adventures

This summer’s Art Soup Stage Adventures presents a refreshing blend of Ice Age science and cool jazz, mixed with an Ethiopian folk tale – you won’t want to miss it!

Performances begin at 10 a.m. Free, but reservations are required. Location: Gordon Theater, Fine Arts Building.

THURSDAY, JULY 7
Jack Branagan: The Ice Age
What was it like to live during the Ice Age? Jack Branagan’s Earth Matters brings the Ice Age and its Mammoth Hunters to life through colorful shadow play, special light effects, large-scale models, and more! Since 1980, Branagan has performed more than 8,000 science-themed shows.

THURSDAY, JULY 14
Arpeggio: Cool Jazz for Cool Kids
Warten Oree and the Arpeggio Jazz Ensemble will chill out children and adults alike with their ultra-cool jazz sounds. With nine CDs of original music, Arpeggio’s repertoire includes original and standard compositions. Audience members may be pulled up on stage for an impromptu jam session!

THURSDAY, JULY 21
Catskill Puppet Theater: The Lion’s Whiskers
A delightful musical adaptation of a traditional Ethiopian folktale, this show features a charming cast of human characters, as well as all of your favorite African animals, such as giraffes and lions! The show features masks and puppets ranging from three-quarter-life-sized to gigantic and is highlighted with shadow puppetry and original songs.

Hidden Treasures: Selections from the Rutgers–Camden Collection of Art

JUNE 8 THROUGH AUGUST 12, 2011
Gallery hours: Monday through Friday, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Closed July 3-5.
Location: Stedman Gallery, Fine Arts Building.

Known for presenting diverse exhibitions of work by regional, national, and international artists working in varied media, Hidden Treasures offers a unique glimpse into the Stedman Gallery’s own collection of works of art on paper. The exhibition will feature 50 works by renowned artists such as Salvador Dalí, Helen Frankenthaler, Joe Goode, Jasper Johns, and Lowell Nesbitt, official NASA artist for flights 9 and 13. Newly framed for this exclusive public display, the works have been acquired over the years through donations and acquisitions, and will be displayed throughout the campus in public spaces after the exhibition closes.

From top to bottom: Shadow of Noman by William Hawk; Dismantling Rocktile by Richard Huck; and Thoth, Creator of Arts and Sciences, Confronts the Artist by Anne Heimann.

This exhibition is made possible in part by funds from the New Jersey State Council on the Arts/Department of State, a Partner Agency of the National Endowment for the Arts, and Rutgers, The State University of New Jersey.

Mallery Concert Series

Presented by the Department of Fine Arts, the Mallery Concert Series continues its tradition of entertaining the campus community and the general public with live music during the summer months. The concert series is under the direction of Dr. Joseph Schiavo, music program director at Rutgers–Camden.

Concerts begin at 12 p.m. Location: Mallery Music Room, Fine Arts Building (second floor).

TUESDAY, JUNE 28
Molly Vivian Huang, piano
TUESDAY, JULY 5
Uptown Jazztet
TUESDAY, JULY 12
Bice Horszowski, piano
TUESDAY, JULY 19
Trautenberg Memorial Concert
Andy Willis, piano

Parking is available in Rutgers Lot 14 (Third and Pearl Streets) from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. only on concert days. For more parking information, see parking.camden.rutgers.edu.

For more information about Department of Fine Arts programming, see finearts.camden.rutgers.edu/events.

Rutgers–Camden Center for the Arts

Rutgers, The State University of New Jersey

JUNE 8 THROUGH AUGUST 12, 2011

Gallery hours: Monday through Friday, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Closed July 3-5.
Location: Stedman Gallery, Fine Arts Building.

Hidden Treasures: Selections from the Rutgers–Camden Collection of Art

Known for presenting diverse exhibitions of work by regional, national, and international artists working in varied media, Hidden Treasures offers a unique glimpse into the Stedman Gallery’s own collection of works of art on paper. The exhibition will feature 50 works by renowned artists such as Salvador Dalí, Helen Frankenthaler, Joe Goode, Jasper Johns, and Lowell Nesbitt, official NASA artist for flights 9 and 13. Newly framed for this exclusive public display, the works have been acquired over the years through donations and acquisitions, and will be displayed throughout the campus in public spaces after the exhibition closes.

From top to bottom: Shadow of Noman by William Hawk; Dismantling Rocktile by Richard Huck; and Thoth, Creator of Arts and Sciences, Confronts the Artist by Anne Heimann.

This exhibition is made possible in part by funds from the New Jersey State Council on the Arts/Department of State, a Partner Agency of the National Endowment for the Arts, and Rutgers, The State University of New Jersey.

Rutgers–Camden Center for the Arts

Rutgers, The State University of New Jersey

JUNE 8 THROUGH AUGUST 12, 2011

Gallery hours: Monday through Friday, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Closed July 3-5.
Location: Stedman Gallery, Fine Arts Building.

Hidden Treasures: Selections from the Rutgers–Camden Collection of Art

Known for presenting diverse exhibitions of work by regional, national, and international artists working in varied media, Hidden Treasures offers a unique glimpse into the Stedman Gallery’s own collection of works of art on paper. The exhibition will feature 50 works by renowned artists such as Salvador Dalí, Helen Frankenthaler, Joe Goode, Jasper Johns, and Lowell Nesbitt, official NASA artist for flights 9 and 13. Newly framed for this exclusive public display, the works have been acquired over the years through donations and acquisitions, and will be displayed throughout the campus in public spaces after the exhibition closes.

From top to bottom: Shadow of Noman by William Hawk; Dismantling Rocktile by Richard Huck; and Thoth, Creator of Arts and Sciences, Confronts the Artist by Anne Heimann.

This exhibition is made possible in part by funds from the New Jersey State Council on the Arts/Department of State, a Partner Agency of the National Endowment for the Arts, and Rutgers, The State University of New Jersey.

Rutgers–Camden Center for the Arts

Rutgers, The State University of New Jersey

JUNE 8 THROUGH AUGUST 12, 2011

Gallery hours: Monday through Friday, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Closed July 3-5.
Location: Stedman Gallery, Fine Arts Building.

Hidden Treasures: Selections from the Rutgers–Camden Collection of Art

Known for presenting diverse exhibitions of work by regional, national, and international artists working in varied media, Hidden Treasures offers a unique glimpse into the Stedman Gallery’s own collection of works of art on paper. The exhibition will feature 50 works by renowned artists such as Salvador Dalí, Helen Frankenthaler, Joe Goode, Jasper Johns, and Lowell Nesbitt, official NASA artist for flights 9 and 13. Newly framed for this exclusive public display, the works have been acquired over the years through donations and acquisitions, and will be displayed throughout the campus in public spaces after the exhibition closes.

From top to bottom: Shadow of Noman by William Hawk; Dismantling Rocktile by Richard Huck; and Thoth, Creator of Arts and Sciences, Confronts the Artist by Anne Heimann.

This exhibition is made possible in part by funds from the New Jersey State Council on the Arts/Department of State, a Partner Agency of the National Endowment for the Arts, and Rutgers, The State University of New Jersey.

Rutgers–Camden Center for the Arts

Rutgers, The State University of New Jersey

JUNE 8 THROUGH AUGUST 12, 2011

Gallery hours: Monday through Friday, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Closed July 3-5.
Location: Stedman Gallery, Fine Arts Building.

Hidden Treasures: Selections from the Rutgers–Camden Collection of Art

Known for presenting diverse exhibitions of work by regional, national, and international artists working in varied media, Hidden Treasures offers a unique glimpse into the Stedman Gallery’s own collection of works of art on paper. The exhibition will feature 50 works by renowned artists such as Salvador Dalí, Helen Frankenthaler, Joe Goode, Jasper Johns, and Lowell Nesbitt, official NASA artist for flights 9 and 13. Newly framed for this exclusive public display, the works have been acquired over the years through donations and acquisitions, and will be displayed throughout the campus in public spaces after the exhibition closes.

From top to bottom: Shadow of Noman by William Hawk; Dismantling Rocktile by Richard Huck; and Thoth, Creator of Arts and Sciences, Confronts the Artist by Anne Heimann.

This exhibition is made possible in part by funds from the New Jersey State Council on the Arts/Department of State, a Partner Agency of the National Endowment for the Arts, and Rutgers, The State University of New Jersey.
This summer’s Art Soup Stage Adventures presents a refreshing blend of Ice Age science and cool jazz, mixed with an Ethiopian folk tale – you won’t want to miss it!

Performances begin at 10 a.m. Free, but reservations are required. Location: Gordon Theater, Fine Arts Building.

THURSDAY, JULY 7
Jack Branagan: The Ice Age
What was it like to live during the Ice Age? Jack Branagan’s Earth Matters brings the Ice Age and its Mammoth Hunters to life through colorful shadow play, special light effects, large-scale models, and more! Since 1980, Branagan has performed more than 8,000 science-themed shows.

THURSDAY, JULY 14
Arpeggio: Cool Jazz for Cool Kids
Waren Oree and the Arpeggio Jazz Ensemble will chill out children and adults alike with their ultra-cool jazz sounds. With nine CDs of original music, Arpeggio’s repertoire includes original and standard compositions. Audience members may be pulled up on stage for an impromptu jam session!

THURSDAY, JULY 21
Catskill Puppet Theater: The Lion’s Whiskers
A delightful musical adaptation of a traditional Ethiopian folktale, this show features a charming cast of human characters, as well as all of your favorite African animals, such as giraffes and lions! The show features masks and puppets ranging from three-quarter-life-sized to gigantic and is highlighted with shadow puppetry and original songs.

Parking is available in Rutgers Lot 14 (Third and Pearl Streets) from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. only on concert days. For more parking information, see parking.camden.rutgers.edu.

For more information about Department of Fine Arts programming, see finearts.camden.rutgers.edu/events.
Rutgers–Camden Center for the Arts

This summer's Art Soup Stage Adventures presents a refreshing blend of Ice Age science and cool jazz, mixed with an Ethiopian folk tale—you won't want to miss it!

Performances begin at 10 a.m. Free, but reservations are required. Location: Gordon Theater, Fine Arts Building.

THURSDAY, JULY 7
Jack Branagan: The Ice Age

What was it like to live during the Ice Age? Jack Branagan's Earth Matters brings the Ice Age and its Mammoth Hunters to life through colorful shadow play, special light effects, large-scale models, and more! Since 1980, Branagan has performed more than 8,000 science-themed shows.

THURSDAY, JULY 14
Arpeggio: Cool Jazz for Cool Kids

Waren Oree and the Arpeggio Jazz Ensemble will chill out children and adults alike with their ultra-cool jazz sounds. With nine CDs of original music, Arpeggio's repertoire includes original and standard compositions. Audience members may be pulled up on stage for an impromptu jam session!

THURSDAY, JULY 21
Catskill Puppet Theater: The Lion's Whiskers

A delightful musical adaptation of a traditional Ethiopian folktale, this show features a charming cast of human characters, as well as all of your favorite African animals, such as giraffes and lions! The show features masks and puppets ranging from three-quarter-life-sized to gigantic and is highlighted with shadow puppetry and original songs.

Parking is available in Rutgers Lot 14 (Third and Pearl Streets) from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. only on concert days. For more parking information, see parking.camden.rutgers.edu.

For more information about Department of Fine Arts programming, see finearts.camden.rutgers.edu/events.

Family Fun and Gallery Exhibits

Art Soup 2011 Stage Adventures

This summer's Art Soup Stage Adventures presents a refreshing blend of Ice Age science and cool jazz, mixed with an Ethiopian folk tale—you won't want to miss it!

Performances begin at 10 a.m. Free, but reservations are required. Location: Gordon Theater, Fine Arts Building.

THURSDAY, JULY 7
Jack Branagan: The Ice Age

What was it like to live during the Ice Age? Jack Branagan's Earth Matters brings the Ice Age and its Mammoth Hunters to life through colorful shadow play, special light effects, large-scale models, and more! Since 1980, Branagan has performed more than 8,000 science-themed shows.

THURSDAY, JULY 14
Arpeggio: Cool Jazz for Cool Kids

Waren Oree and the Arpeggio Jazz Ensemble will chill out children and adults alike with their ultra-cool jazz sounds. With nine CDs of original music, Arpeggio's repertoire includes original and standard compositions. Audience members may be pulled up on stage for an impromptu jam session!

THURSDAY, JULY 21
Catskill Puppet Theater: The Lion's Whiskers

A delightful musical adaptation of a traditional Ethiopian folktale, this show features a charming cast of human characters, as well as all of your favorite African animals, such as giraffes and lions! The show features masks and puppets ranging from three-quarter-life-sized to gigantic and is highlighted with shadow puppetry and original songs.

Parking is available in Rutgers Lot 14 (Third and Pearl Streets) from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. only on concert days. For more parking information, see parking.camden.rutgers.edu.

For more information about Department of Fine Arts programming, see finearts.camden.rutgers.edu/events.

Rutgers, The State University of New Jersey
25th Annual Rutgers–Camden Summer Writers’ Conference

The annual Summer Writers’ Conference offers an intensive series of workshops, lectures, and meetings to Rutgers students and the community. Throughout the conference, nationally known and award-winning writers, poets, and editors host hour-long readings of their works during the afternoon. The reading series is open to the public and free. Refreshments will be served.

Readings begin at 1 p.m. Location: Stedman Gallery, Fine Arts Building.

TUESDAY, JUNE 21
Jane Bernstein and Dolores Hayden

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 22
Robin Hemley and Ken Kalfus

THURSDAY, JUNE 23
Rebecca Chace and Tom Sleigh

FRIDAY, JUNE 24
Greg Pardlo and Benjamin Hale

MONDAY, JUNE 27
J.T. Barbarese and Danielle Evans

TUESDAY, JUNE 28
Lise Funderburg and Peter Trachtenberg

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 29
Rutgers–Camden M.F.A. students

For conference information and biographies of authors, see summer.camden.rutgers.edu/writconf.html.